The Talisman Ring

The Talisman Ring is a historical romance novel by Georgette Heyer, first published in 1936. Set in 1793, in the Georgian era, the action takes place in Sussex, where Heyer then lived. Like several of Heyer's early novels including Regency Buck (1935) and The Corinthian (1940), The Talisman Ring blends the genres of romantic comedy and thriller.

The Talisman Ring - Wikipedia

The Talisman Ring is one of Heyer's funniest and fastest-paced romantic comedies, telling the story of a fugitive heir, a tempestuous Frenchwoman, and the two sensible people who try to keep them out of trouble.

The Talisman Ring by Georgette Heyer - Goodreads

The Talisman Ring has two protagonists from the get-go, Sir Tristram Shield and his insouciant French cousin, Eustacie de Vauban. They are charged by their dying grandfather to get married and carry on his legacy and so on and so forth, in the absence of his direct heir, Ludovic, who is essentially on the lam after being wrongly accused of murder.

The Talisman Ring belongs to the historical romance category but set in the 18th century. It makes a good read as it is strong on plot and a little short on historical detail. There's enough detail for the reader to be aware of the period that serves as the setting, not so much as to get in the way. The talisman ring that has been lost during an unsolved murder serves as the focus of the plot.
